NUMBER 42.

OIL NEWS.

[BY E. T. KEMPER]

Absence from home and uncertainty of the mails is my apology for the failure of my regular items to appear in last week's issue.

During the past week an oil well with a daily capacity of 60,000 barrels has been reported by the Mexican Embassy at Washington as having been drilled in at Vera Cruz, Mexico.

Some idea of the value of an oil well may be obtained by the statement of a well-known operator, a few days ago, who reports that he saw a well near St. Mary's, W. Va., 1,700 feet in depth and with a daily capacity of only one-half barrel, being equipped for pumping. The quality of oil produced by the well referred to is now selling at $6.20 per barrel, so figure it for yourself. Adair county will produce oil practically of the same grade.

The Kentucky Oil Age, a weekly journal to be devoted exclusively to oil interests, will make its initial bow to the public at Bowling Green this week. Experienced journalistic and oil men be at the helm and they will have as their motto, "absolutely reliable oil news, right up-to-date and neither pains nor expense to be spared in securing it." Such a publication is badly needed in this State, where so much capital is being invested and where so much development work is under way, and it will be hailed with delight and ably supported by the oil people generally.

Mr. A. C. Phillips, of Philadelphia, a large oil operator and who has some prominent men of Pittsburg connected with him, was here during the past week for the purpose of getting a line on certain acreage in this section, and while here he talked very freely of the drilling operations he and his associates are to begin, just as soon as the machinery now in transit arrives, in Green county just over the Adair line, and in the vicinity of Pickett's Mill. Before leaving town Mr. Phillips secured from local people a short option on over one thousand acres of leases located a few miles west of Columbia.

After reaching a depth of some 850 feet where the Pencil cave structure was encountered, the J. E. Carnahan Oil Company, drilling on the Flowers farm, were compelled to abandon the well for the time being on account of their having exhausted the capacity of the rig. Had they been able to have gone as much as 200 feet deeper it is confidently believed they would have struck a fine pool of oil, as the structure referred to above is generally from 150 to 200 feet above a paying sand. The well is producing gas in such quantities that it is being utilized by Mr. John Holladay in the heating and lighting his residence, located just across the road, and he has the distinction of being the first one in this section to enjoy such a privilege. The Carnahan Company has moved their rig to the Henry Ingram farm, near Columbia, on the Russell Springs road, where they are now drilling well No. 2.

Reliable information is at hand to the effect that a Syndicate of capitalists from Chicago and other points have contracted for the immediate drilling of not less than twenty wells in the southern portion of Russell county, on the south, side of Cumberland river and in close proximity to the McMead wells, and this is only one of the many operations scheduled for that section. The Carnahan wells on the Coffey farm on the north side of the river, about one and one-half miles from the locality mentioned, have not yet been tested under the pump, but they are making a splendid showing by the way the oil is rising in them, and it is believed they will prove to be equally as good as the McMead wells.

McMead Oil Company's well No. 4, Campbell Bros. farm, Crooksboro, came in Friday morning very promising. The rig caught fire, but was saved through the heroic efforts of the drilling crew. Every well these people have drilled is a good one, and while no correct estimate of the amount of production is ventured, still it is known there is an abundance of high-grade oil on the property, and it is attracting the attention of some of the big oil men of the country. Sunday parties have been trying to secure a price on the property, but the Company is loth to name one owing to the fact that they are convinced they have a great and promising proposition, and they expect to reap some of the profits by holding on to it and operating it themselves. They have just passed the rigid inspection of the State "Blue Sky" law, and they are now offering to sell a limited amount of the capital stock for the purpose of raising additional funds for extra equipment and operating expenses.

Mr. Geo. H. Palmer, president of the Palmer Oil Company, with general offices in this city, has just returned from a trip to Cleveland and West Virginia. He reports their big drilling rig on the way and it is expected any day. It has capacity to make the deepest tests, and it will be manned by a crew of competent and experienced men who know the business thoroughly, so we look for some good results to follow their efforts here. The exact location of the first drilling has not been made public, but suffice to say that it will be very close to Columbia, and on a location recommended by Mr. Lucien Beckner, Winchester, one of the best posted and most reliable geologists to be found anywhere. In this connection I am pleased to state that Mr. Palmer says while on his recent trip he saw nothing in Ohio, West Virginia, or any other section of Kentucky, in the way of structure, to begin to compare with what we have right here in Adair county. Mr. Palmer also reports that several capitalists from the north are arranging to come here at an early date, and when they do there will be something doing in such a way that it will cause the most chronic pessimist to sit up and take notice.

The Missionary Play.

A fair audience was at the Baptist Church last Friday night, to witness the missionary play, given by children. It was a beautiful story and all the children did remarkably well and were highly complimented. The singing was cheering and the marches perfect. Rev. J. P. Scruggs, Franklin, Ky., delivered a very interesting missionary address, between acts.

More About the Diamond Found.

Our Big Elm correspondent has this to say:

The diamond spoken of in the News last week, was found by Oliver Helm, on the farm of Henry Burris, in Russell county, 1 1/2 miles from the Adair line, and about three hundred yards from Cabin Fork, on very high land where the soil had worn away, leaving the clay and small pebbles. Amygdaloid trap, there seems to be an upheaval of this specie of trap rock, running southwest for 1 1/2 miles from where this diamond was picked up. About 1/2 mile on this route Mr. Job Carnes found a diamond about the size of the first one, and lost it in a few days. The ones who saw it said it was just like the Helm diamond.

Helm sent his diamond to Mr. Schultz for inspection, who pronounced it something valuable. Not being satisfied, he sent it to Tiffany, of New York, who pronounced it a genuine diamond, and wrote Mr. Helm he would give him $15.00 for it. Mr. Helm wrote back to Mr. Tiffany that he could have it for $20.00, and in a few days Mr. Helm received a letter from Mr. Tiffany with the $20.00.

This locality may be regarded as a typical representation of trap rock. This specie of trap abounds in some places so thick the farmers have to remove them before they can plow the ground. Some as large as a bushel basket. This upheaval crosses five farms in Russell county, a distance of about one mile and a half. This dike can be followed on this line by the quartz rocks or trapin, thrown out on top the ground. The writer of this has a piece of Talc that was found on this dike, and some oxide of iron, some pure lead ore, and various other minerals. A man by the name of Browning came to this section from Arkansas diamond mines to look for a dike, where this diamond was found, and traced this dike for a mile or more, and left in my possession some pebbles which he said came from the Arkansas Diamond mine. He said he had no doubt but what other diamonds could be washed out of the sand along this dike, but no one has ever washed any sand.

Public Sale.

On Saturday, August 14th, beginning at 10 a. m. I will offer for sale, at my residence, all my household goods.

All parties owing me drug accounts will please settle at once, as I am preparing to leave the county.

The town of Columbia is without lights, and there is no telling when there will be regular running. Occasionally the water power can be turned on. The engine at the power house is out of commission, and just when it will be in operation, no one knows.

We learn from Prof. R. V. Bennett that the prospects for opening the Lindsey Wilson, the last day of this month, is very flattering. Letters are constantly arriving, making inquiry about rooms and board. A great deal of improvement has been made on the buildings and everything will be in readiness when the bell taps.

A Quiet Wedding.

Last Wednesday afternoon about 1 o'clock, Miss Zella Pelley and Mr. J. D. Jarvis, of Barbourville, were happily married by Rev. R. V. Bennett, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pelley, this city. Soon after the ceremony the couple left for the home of the groom.

The bride has been teaching in Barbourville for several years, and was in that place she became acquainted with the gentleman who is now her companion.

The bride is a very excellent young lady, very quiet in disposition and the announcement of her marriage will be a surprise to her many friends throughout the county.

The groom is a young business man, of Barbourville, and is popular and highly esteemed throughout Knox county.

The Fordson Tractor.

Every farmer who wants to save labor and turn his ground to perfection should own one of these machines. It is sold by the Buchanan Lyon Company and farmers who have purchased are perfectly delighted. Labor is quite an item in this day and time, in fact it is almost impossible for farmers to secure help sufficient to put out their crops. The Fordson Tractor having been introduced, the farmer who owns one of these machines is independent, as it will turn over more ground in one day than three men with double shovel plows could break in a week or ten days. It is a labor saving machine, doing its work quickly and accurately.

Last Wednesday one was in operation on R. L. Faulkner's farm, near Coburg, quite a number of persons being present, and they were astonished to see the amount of ground it turned in a short time. It carries a McKay Disc Plow.

When this machine was placed on Mr. Faulkner's farm he had not purchased it, Buchanan Lyon Company telling him that if, after trial, he did not want it they would remove it. It was not removed.

Adair county farmers who want to do up-to-date work, at less expense than the old way, should get in communication with the Buchanan Lyon Company. This machine is like the Ford Car. It has come to stay, and the farmer who does not buy one will everlastingly be behind with his work.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. E. W. Reed gave her niece, Mary Nell Barnett, of St. Louis, a birthday party last Thursday afternoon. The little Miss was five years old and all the little girls and boys about town were invited, and late in the afternoon the lawn and Reed home were like a beehive—the happiest bunch of children called together in this town for many a day. There were games and music and the nicest of refreshments served. Mary Nell did not know what it was to be happy until she commenced to receive presents from all her little friends. The home was decorated with flowers and evergreens, a most inviting picture.

The following were present: Margaret Hamlett, Elizabeth Montgomery, Margaret Depp, Anna May Menzies, Amanda Laura Menzies, Catherine Myers, Nancy Barnett, Dorothy Barger, Lucile Patteson, Nina Phelps, Catherine Russell, Mary Faulkner, Margaret Hynes, Earl Myers, John Ritchey Walker, Herschel Baker Jones, Morris Baldauf, James Montgomery Cravens.

The Graded school building has undergone some needed repairs. A new roof has been placed on the building, and other changes have been made in the interior, making the building comfortable and much more convenient. On the inside it will have the appearance of a new building. The new metal ceiling make the upper rooms very inviting.

Taken Up.

There are four yearling calves at my place, two black, one Jersey, one light Jersey. The owner can have same by paying expenses.

C. D. Cheatham, Bliss, Ky.

Will be Here Saturday.

Rev. J. R. Crawford of Paducah, Rev. F. J. Cheek of Danville and Rev. Weber of Lebanon will conduct a New Era Institute at the Presbyterian church on Saturday and Sunday August 14 and 15. The services which pertain to the campaign for "A Better World," "A Better Community" and "A Better Church" will consist of stereopticon views, and lectures by the above named ministers all of whom are known and admired by Columbia people. Services Saturday evening at 7:30 and Sunday morning at 11. The church members are urged and the public is cordially invited to attend. Services of like nature will also be held at Union on Friday and Saturday Aug. 13 and 14.

Trip to Mississippi.

Mr. B. O. Hurt and Mr. E. A. McKinley returned from West Point, Miss., last Friday. They went to Mississippi, prospecting and they were perfectly delighted with the country about West Point. Mr. Hurt was in the office Saturday and reported that he contracted for 280 acres of splendid land, and he contemplates to take up his residence in that settlement as soon as he can sell his property in Adair county. Mr. McKinley took an option on a boundary of fine land and it is very likely that he will close a deal in a short time.

Inspeaking of his visit, Mr. Hurt stated that Mr. C. S. Harris and Mr. R. K. Young, former citizens of this place, were delightfully situated, but that they resided in West Point. He and Mr. McKinley, he says, were royally treated by these gentlemen and their families, every courtesy shown them, and that they were made to feel perfectly at home.

Mr. Harris and Mr. Young are dealers in real estate, and full attention is paid Adair county prospective buyers. Mr. Hurt says that the country is much better than represented to him before leaving home. He has no hesitancy in advising his friends to go and see it.

Sparks Big 3 Ring Show Coming to Campbellsville.

Sparks World Famous Shows are to exhibit at Campbellsville, Friday, Aug. 13th, and from the newspaper reports preceding them their exhibition will be worth going many miles to see.

Of the many features carried by the show this season some of the animal acts are without doubt the most wonderful and thrilling ever presented to an American audience. There will be the two herds of ponderous elephants, headed by earth's mightiest monster Big Zula, the skyscraper elephant, the Sparks Stable of shimmy and tango dancing horses, including Caesar, champion high jumping horse of the world; and three groups of marblesque statue horses and dogs in a series of classic poses and groupings. Then too, there will be Five Cornallas, darling girl acrobats, Flora Bedini and Bessie Hollis, America's foremost equestriennes and host of other stars of the arena world.

The menagerie of wild animals carried by the Sparks Circus is complete in every detail and contains rare and costly specimens of the earth's most curious animals. A parade of nearly two miles in length and of wondrous splendor will leave the ground daily at 10:30 a. m., and will contain many beautiful women and handsome horses interspersed with four bands of music and two calliopes.

Destructive Fire at Greensburg.

On Tuesday morning, the 3rd inst, the Greensburg Leaf Plant was destroyed by fire and 500,000 pounds of tobacco. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The tobacco had been stored in the building by various dealers. There was but little insurance on the plant.

and the tobacco. The origin of the fire is unknown. This was a popular enterprise with the tobacco growers of the State, and the loss is a serious blow to the business interests of Greensburg. We hope the plant will be rebuilt in time for the growing crop, and that sales will open promptly when the season for selling opens.

Victory for Columbia.

Last Friday afternoon the Columbia Baseball Club met the crack News Journal team of Campbellsville, on the latter's grounds, where there was a very interesting game, after Mr. Godder got the umpires strung out. We have heard of games where there were players put out of the contest, but never before were the umpires changed as many as four times.

The first inning Campbellsville run in 7 scores, but after "Old Burley" got at home the tide changed and out of 10 innings, he only allowed them 3 hits and 2 scores. After the first inning this was a very interesting game, both sides playing hard for victory, but the Columbia boys just simply out played their opponents, who had won 8 games out of 10 played this year, but they had not played Columbia before. The final score stood 10 to 9, 10 innings.

The line up:

The couple remained in Columbia until the day when they left for Illinois where the groom holds a position. The bride is a sister of the Reece boys who are in business in Columbia.

We are sorry to learn of the serious condition of Mrs. J. S. Breeding, this place. She went to Louisville some days ago for an operation. How to Avoid Losses to Hogs in Hot Weather.

To prevent losses to livestock, particularly hogs, in transit during hot weather, the livestock department of the Southern railway system has issued the following suggestions to all shippers with request that they be followed as closely as possible:

Haul or drive hogs to station in ample time to allow them to become rested and cool before loading.

When ordering a car for loading hogs, insist upon a clean one bedded with sand, clay or earth. Wet thoroughly the bedding and interior of car before loading.

Give only a small feed of grain before shipping. Heavy feed means more body heat generated.

Load not more than one hour before the train is to depart.

Load slowly and carefully. Avoid excitement, and do not beat or bruise the animals.

Load not to exceed 14,000 pounds fat hogs and 16,000 pounds stock hogs in a standard 36-foot car during the warm weather.

Have water applied to the bedding in the car at available points immediately after the train stops.

Use ice on floor of car whenever possible, three blocks to a car.

Report inattention or neglect at once to Superintendent of division on which shipment originates.

Never throw water directly upon hogs after they become heated. Run it on floor of car under hogs instead.

When you feel lazy out of sorts and yawn a good deal in the day time, you need Herbine to stimulate your liver, tone up your stomach and purify your bowels. Price, 60c. Sold by Paul Drug Co. Adv.

Demon mathematicians who have spent time trying to estimate the age of Ann or to determine why a chicken crossed a street, can take off their tortiserimmed "specs" and rub their beetling brows in astonishment over the annual production figures of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. Last year 45,000,000 pounds of cotton fabric were used for various products, while in the same period 108,000,000 pounds of rubber were manufactured into products for use all over the world. Here's where the staticians become dizzy. If the total amount of rubber used in 1919 was transported at one time, the train of 689 freight cars needed would stretch for a distance of seven miles. It would be the annual production from 20,000,000 rubber trees, which would cover 208,000 acres of ground. To store this vast amount of rubber—equal to 39 days supply for the entire world—6,000,000 cubic feet of floor space would be required. This mountain of crude rubber would suffice for the manufacture of approximately 9,000,000 tires. Every working day six miles of belting, six tons of packing and 11 miles of hose are turned out by 35,000 employees in addition to 45,000 automobile tires. Four million pairs of rubber soles for shoes are made every 12 months and more than 30,000,000 pairs of rubber heels are turned out in the same period. Goodyear Tires sold by Buchanan Lyon Co.

COMMUNITY INSPIRED TO INCORPORATE TOWN

Coke Otto, a small mining community near Hamilton, Ohio, isn't content to be just a group of people any longer.

Coke Otto wants to be an incorporated town.

And it's all the result of community meetings and activities inaugurated by the Rural Extension Secretary of Hamilton Chapter of the Red Cross.

When Hamilton engaged its rural worker, she went among other places to Coke Otto, where perhaps 700 people live. Sanitary conditions were very lax there, so one of the first movements was the organization of a "tin can brigade." This was divided into eight sub-regiments and prizes were offered the group that kept the most rubbish out of the community for a specified length of time.

Subsequent community meetings have shown the people of Coke Otto the need for street clean-ups, flood protection and sanitation. After the third meeting the community decided that better and quicker results could be obtained through united efforts. Hence the plan to become an incorporated town.

Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 28—the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call.

FOURTH RED CROSS ROLL CALL ANNOUNCED

Announcing the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call, to be held between November 11 and November 28, 1920, Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee, made known the fact that as a result of last year's Roll Call, the American Red Cross has ten million members.

The Red Cross has decided to make each anniversary of the ending of the world war the occasion for renewing allegiance to the "Greatest Mother" by means of the dollar membership. Thus the Fourth Roll Call will have for its purpose the maintenance of as nearly universal membership as possible and the support of peace time activities.

These activities are continuation of measures in behalf of America's veterans of the World War, particularly the disabled; service to the peace time Army and Navy, development of a stouter resistance to disease through health centers, increasing of the country's nursing resources, continued preparedness for disaster relief, Home Service and community work and completion of relief work among the war-exhausted and disease-ridden peoples overseas.

QUESTIONNAIRE BRINGS MONEY FOR VACATION

In a certain Lake Division town, there's a mother of a former soldier who has nearly $100 extra to spend for herself this summer.

The Red Cross Home Service section in that community sent questionnaires to all ex-service men, asking them if all their war-time affairs had been satisfactorily settled.

The particular soldier in question was discharged soon after the Armistice and had never learned that some travel pay was due him. After he had read over the questionnaire he decided to look up the Home Service secretary and find out about some of the things noted among the queries.

As a result he just received a check for $96.48 that he didn't know was due him until the Red Cross questionnaire came. He gave the money to his mother for a vacation. This is a typical example of the service given by the Red Cross.

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I sent for Cardui."

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "Six bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.

HELPED OUT REIGNING BULL

Kindly Act of New Member of Herd Something the Keepers Had Never Seen Before.

Usually when a new bull is taken into the buffalo herd at Golden Gate park in San Francisco his standing is promptly decided by a challenge from the head of the herd. The newcomer either wins the fight and in turn is exalted to the rank of sovereign or he is defeated and shown his place. But a new bull, Mogul, recently proved to be an exception. He was two years old, a fine example of what a young buffalo should be, and he seemed thoroughly content to mind his own business and to let the other bulls mind theirs. No one would have known that there was a new buffalo in the herd.

One morning the keepers saw that there was something in the air. Mogul was sniffling round the reigning bull. They were apart from the herd, heads down, and were moving round slowly. It was the queerest beginning of a bullfight that the keepers had ever seen. It appeared as if Mogul would knock out the old bull with one toss.

As they moved round and round Mogul seemed to be boring the other bull in the eye, and the other bull did not seem to be making the least resistance. Then they pulled apart and Mogul put down his head.

The old bull had a bunch of thorny cactus sticking over his right eye, and Mogul was boring it off as best he could with his clumsy short little horns. Finally, after two more attempts, circling round as before, he got the cactus off, and each moved away about his own business.—Youth's Companion.

FIRST UNITED STATES COINS

"Fugios," Made of Copper, Were the Earliest Issued by Direct Authority of Congress.

The "fugios" were the earliest coins issued by the authority of the United States, and were of copper. It was in April, 1787, that the congress of the United States authorized the board of treasury to contract for 300 tons of copper coin of the federal standard "agreeably to the proposition of Mr. James Jarvis, provided that the premium to be allowed to the United States on the account of the copper contracted for be not less than 15 per cent." and that "it be coined at the expense of the contractor, but under the inspection of an officer appointed and paid by the United States."

It is presumed that this copper coin contract was made as directed for on Friday, July 6, 1787, the congress adopted this resolution: "That the board of treasury direct the contractor for the copper coinage to stamp on one side of each piece the following device, viz.: Thirteen circles linked together and a small circle in the middle with the words 'United States' around it, and in the center the words 'We are one.' On the other side of the same piece the following device, viz.: A dial with the hours expressed on the face of it, a meridian sun above, on one side of which is to be the word 'Fugio' and on the other side the date '1787'; below the dial the words, 'Mind your own business.'"

Autograph Hunter's Coup.
Autograph hunting sometimes proves a most profitable pursuit. Ludovic Picard, a French Bohemian of the '50s, made a steady income out of it for several years.

One of his most successful coups was accomplished with a letter in which he posed as "a member of the unhappy race of the unappreciated who is meditating suicide and seeks for counsel and aid in this hour of sore distress."

This drew a number of celebrities, including Beranger and Heine. Lacordaire sent him ten closely written pages, which were promptly converted into cash.

Dickens also fell a victim of his wiles and took the trouble to answer him in French. Eventually Picard was shown up in the press by Jules Sandeau and had to seek another occupation.

Englishman on Papal Throne.

Pope Adrian IV was by birth an Englishman, and the only one of that nation who ever occupied the papal chair. He was a native of Langley, near St. Albans, in Hertfordshire. He was born before A. D. 1100, his real name being Nicholas Breakspear. He was said to have left England as a beggar, and to have become a servant or lay brother in a monastery near Avignon, in France. Here he studied with such diligence that he was elected abbot in 1157. He was made cardinal bishop of Alba in 1146, and went to Denmark and Norway. Upon his return to Rome Nicholas was unanimously chosen pope against his own inclination. In November, 1154, holding that post until his death at Anagni, September 1, 1159.

Alarm Clock for the Deaf.

An alarm clock which will prove useful to the deaf and also to those whom the ordinary alarm clock fails to arouse has recently been patented. At the hour at which the alarm is set not only does the bell ring but a wooden ruler taps the sleeper gently on the head until the "cease action" lever is pulled. This should prove efficacious except for those who sleep with their heads under the bed clothes. The invention has received the patronage of the American Association of the Deaf and Dumb.

MARK ADAPTABILITY OF MAN

Automobile, Airplane, and Submarine Prove His Right to Rule Over the Natural Kingdom.

In the competition for survival, leaf-eating insects must be green, like their prey, or perish; woodpeckers, like the bark; the tiger, striped like sunshine through the rushes. The fittest survive. "A black sheep" is more than a figure of speech. The struggle for existence demands his murder in the flock of white, conspicuous in contrast. Adaptation or death. The crafty little chameleon is the prince of color adapters.

Faculties used, are sharpened; if neglected, they waste away into vestigia—the appendix in man. Eyes of moles and burrowers are slowly closed with skin and fur. The fluffy little lap dog has weak eyes. But cavern toads, with eyesight almost gone, will recover dim perception in slowly graduated light. And night-prowling cats improve their sight to penetrate shadow land. Man noticed the pupils of his eyes contract in sunshine, and enlarge in darkness—saw the bat, and understood.

On all sides he saw this principle at work: Bears, fur coated, restricted to the cold; the dolphin, in the sea; the eagle, the bird of freedom, alert always to escape in flight. He therefore devised the automobile, the airplane and the submarine, to jump from mountain top to ocean bottom.

This adaptability of his body of diversified surroundings has made him monarch of the natural kingdom.

RUSSIA LAND OF HOLIDAYS

Almost Innumerable Occasions When All Work Is Suspended and Time Spent in Pleasure.

Russian people observe rigorously all religious holidays—five at Christmas, ten at Easter, three at Carnival, and almost every week one extra day, when an anniversary of some saint is celebrated. On these days everything is closed, and nobody works. The six weeks of fasting preceding Easter are strictly observed by everybody, and the more devout do not even eat eggs or drink milk, and do not use sugar, because it is refined with blood. The last three days of Holy week are still more respected, for no food at all is consumed. For Easter Sunday, very large cakes, sometimes three or four feet high, are cooked with beautiful ornaments on the top, and eggs skillfully painted. Both cakes and eggs, with other eatables, are brought on Easter eve near the church and placed all about on the ground. After the midnight mass a procession of priests and choir comes out and walks around the church, blessing all the food, which is arranged before them as in a market.

Easter Sunday and the two following days are dedicated to paying visits. Every man calls upon his acquaintances. Visitors are obliged to eat and drink wherever they happen to go, otherwise they will offend the host.

Demigods of Old Rome.

Castor and Pollux, also called the Dioscuri, were heroes or demigods of early Grecian mythology. They were brothers and said to be the sons of Zeus, who in Grecian mythology corresponds to Jupiter in the mythology of Rome. Castor was famous for his skill in taming and managing horses, and Pollux for his skill in boxing. Although they were buried, says the Grecian poet Homer, yet they came to life every other day and enjoyed divine honors. The worship of Castor and Pollux was introduced at Rome at an early time. They were held to have aided the Romans in battle with the Latins, or natives of Italy, and a temple was erected to them in the forum. After these two mythical heroes was the ship named in which St. Paul completed his memorable voyage to Italy, in order that he might appeal to Caesar for justice and protection.

Eskimo Inherently Honest.

The Eskimo regards honesty as paramount. He will never misrepresent facts, and although he may want to dispose of an article badly he will rather deprecate it than run the risk of overpraising. A man who lies or deceives another is severely punished. An Eskimo will not permit a fellow man to need for food or clothing, once he has enough for himself and his family. War, to the parka-hooded men of the North, is unknown. They decide differences by staging dance duels and outwitting each other, and old men act as judges to decide winners. In this way honor is satisfied. Brutality is unknown. In combating nature, fighting the walrus, the whale and the bear with primitive weapons, the Eskimo displays unusual coolness and plans his way out of danger with extreme self-possession.

Value of Snakes.

Most people have a decided shrinking from snakes, which is not to be wondered at in tropical countries, where their bite is venomous and often fatal. But the grass snake ought not to be confounded with the rattlers, cobras or pythons. It is as harmless to humanity as a frog and a good deal more useful. No greater enemy to bugs is in existence. And slugs are among the most hurtful of garden and field pests. They keep down the numbers also of such other pests as mice, shrews and other small rodents. But as slug destroyers they deserve to be cherished rather than massacred at sight, which is their usual fate.

LUCKY AND UNLUCKY DAYS

Study of Statistics Will Enable Almost Any One to Justify His Pet Belief.

Cold, hard statistics prove that the greatest number of premier awards for gallantry were won on Monday. No other day showing anything like the same record, though the much-maligned Friday stands out noticeably.

Which fact gives some color to the superstitions many people have about certain days of the week being lucky, while others are unlucky.

Tuesday seems to be the bad day of the week; calamities are far more common on that day than on any other day. Railway disasters, fires, street accidents—the record in each case is held easily by Tuesday. And it is the day most favored, too, by those who desire to put an end to their existence.

Saturday also has a bad reputation; its specialty is murders; and fully half the petty crime that is dealt with in the police courts occurs on that day. But probably that is because Saturday also holds the record for drunkenness.

There is nothing very distinctive about Thursday beyond the fact that it is the day upon which the birth-rate is highest; and Sunday is noticeable only for its low death-rate.

Wednesday is, above all the rest, the day of weddings. This applies to all classes, and nearly as many marriages are celebrated on that day alone as upon any three of the others.—Montreal Herald.

WANTED TO "GO IT ALONE"

Many Years Ago Missouri Declared Her Ambition to Become an Independent Republic.

Missouri once had intention of setting up as an independent republic all by herself. The Session acts, state of Missouri, 1838-1839, contain a memorial to the congress of the United States relative to the Santa Fe trade. It tells of an expedition of traders to Santa Fe in 1812 from St. Louis, though it is not specifically stated that they went over the Santa Fe trail.

The early Session acts of the Missouri legislature, starting in 1824, contain many interesting resolutions and memorials to congress on all manner of political and historical subjects. Incidentally the Missouri constitution of 1820 starts with the preamble that the citizens of the state agree to form and establish a free and independent republic by the name of the state of Missouri.

Missouri was one, of the pivotal states in the history of this country. It was made such in the ancient fight in congress over the slavery question, which took up the admission of free and slave states and considered the balance thereof in congress. Missouri was also a pivotal state in yet another and larger sense—she was the jumping-off place for that wild and unknown country called the Wild West—the land west of the Missouri river. She made the midway point between the frontiersmen of Kentucky and those of the great plains, occupying a generation of history herself as a frontier commonwealth.

Jason a Legendary Character.

Jason was the leader of the Argonautic expedition in Greek legend. The equivalent of his name in Greek is the healer or atoner. Jason was tutored and brought up under Chiron, a Greek myth renowned for his wisdom and skill in medicine, hunting, music and prophecy. Jason's greatest exploit was his expedition with the Argonauts in quest of the Golden Fleece. Jason secured this by the aid of Medea, a sorceress who fell in love with him. She protected him from the bulls breathing fire and hooved with brass which he was obliged, in order to obtain the fleece, to yoke to the plow. She also protected him from the armed men who sprang up from the dragon's teeth which he was required to sow in the fields. Medea fled with Jason and the fleece and married him. Ten years later Jason abandoned her after she had murdered Creusa, whom Jason had determined to marry.

Lesson in Dietetics.

What bread needs to make it a perfect food—a perfect food is that which contains protein, carbohydrates, and fat in certain definite proportions—is something with fat in it. Hence bread "and butter," and bread "and dripping," and bread "and cheese." Pork and beans pair quite properly, because the beans supply the absent protein. When you eat beef and potatoes, or roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, the pairing makes a perfect food. The pairing of condiments is not a matter of taste alone. Cabbage is peppered because it was discovered that pepper discounted the excessive action of greenstuff on the bowels. Mustard goes with beef, but not with mutton, because mutton is much more easily digested than beef, and mustard is a first-class digester.—Montreal Herald.

Must Have Known What Was Coming.

"You remember the real estate men who used to advertise that buying your own home was better than paying rent."

"Yes."

"Well, they certainly knew what they were talking about, didn't they?"

Economy.
Without economy none can be rich, and with it few will be poor.—Doctoe Johnson.

FOR PRESIDENT
JAMES M. COX, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, of New York.

FOR UNITED STATES SENATE
J. C. W. BECKHAM.

FOR CONGRESS
RALPH GILBERT
of Shelby County.

When a man votes his choice in a primary he knows but one candidate can be nominated and if he does not get his choice, he should vote for the candidate in the general election who was selected. That is the only way to party success.

"A Bad Haircut in the Devil's Barber shop" was the subject of a colored ministers discourse, delivered at the court-house last Sunday. He read the story of Sampson and Delilah, then flew into his subject.

Gov. Cox in his speech of acceptance makes the League of Nations the paramount issue.
In fact he endorses the Wilson administration upon all points at issue. Fifty thousand people were in Dayton to hear him, more than two thousand from
Mr. Harding's town of Marion.

There was a military burying at Jamestown last Sunday. The remains of Sam Piercy, who died on a ship, going over, and buried in France, were brought back. Quite a number of former soldiers were present and a large circle of friends. The remains were buried with honors of war, firing of guns, etc. Mr.
Geo. W. Lowe, this place, went up and sounded the bugle dirge.

Hon. John L. Grayot, of Madisonville, has been chosen Chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, and has already entered upon his duties. The selection was unanimously made by the State Democratic Committee. Mr. Grayot is well-known over the State as a successful campaigner, having filled important district positions and was never defeated. He will thoroughly organize the State, and his lieutenants will start at once with the view of getting out every Democratic vote in the Commonwealth, both men and women. The women who believe in Democratic principles should take pleasure in voting in order that they may be maintained, in both State and National elections,

Judge Frank Gilbert has wired
Mr. J. T. Goodman, this place, that returns are all in from the primary but one precinct in Spencer county, and that his majority in the district is 471.

Gov. Cox and his running mate have been officially notified of their nominations for President and Vice President. Both gentlemen delivered strong speeches of acceptance, and they are now ready for the fight, both feeling confident of their election. On their first speaking tour Gov. Cox will take the East and Mr. Roosevelt the West.

The defeated candidates for the nomination for Congress, stated in their speeches over the district, that which ever one was nominated the other two would work diligently for the nominee until the close of the polls at the November election.
They are all good Democrats and there is not a doubt but the defeated candidates will carry out their promises.

This week we place in our ticket, first column, editorial page, the name of Ralph Gilbert, for Congress, and will make the best fight we can for his election. This is Presidential year, and the district is Democratic by about 2,500 votes and we can see no reason why Judge Gilbert should not win in November. When a primary is over every Democrat in the district should get behind the nominee, and we believe that in the November contest Judge Gilbert will be successful over Hon.
King Swope, the present Representative.

A real Democrat is one who takes a pride in the principles enunciated by his party, and who votes at every election.
Voters of that determination will be needed more in the coming November election than in any contest in the recent past.
Every man who is for the Cox electors and for Senator Beckham's re-election, should become diligent. Every vote will be needed. The Democrats can not win in the State if many of them remain at home on the day of the election.
The Republicans are going to use all the power and persuasion they can command, not only to get their vote out, but they will use every trick they can turn to win support from the Democratically party. Let no man be deceived. There is a fight to a finish on, and every man who believes in the party of Jefferson should vote, and use his influence to get other voters to go to the polls. A Democrat can not do his party any service by remaining at home on the day of the election. It is true that the election is three months off, but there is lots of work to do from now until that time. A party that stands for universal peace should be supported, and supported heartily. The League of Nations, when signed, makes it impossible for another World war, and it is a pity that all men can not see alike on this all important question. If there is a man living who knows the needs of this nation it is the President of the United States, and he is the father of the document agreed upon at Versailles.

RESOLUTIONS.

"Whereas there was created in December 1919 a State Advisory Committee to serve until the regular campaign committee was created for the coming November election and said committee was appointed and served from said date up until this time.

And whereas during said time its members have rendered valuable aid to the party and to the country in uniting the Democrats in this Commonwealth for the coming campaign:

Therefore, be it resolved that this committee extends to said committee and its Chairman, P.
H. Callahan, its profound gratitude and thanks for its work.

Chairman Grayot, in his statement of acceptance, said:

"I am greatly pleased to find the party in such a harmonious condition and in such splendid fighting shape. From every hand come cheering reports of enthusiasm for the entire ticket. The campaign will be a vigorous and aggressive one."

THE CONGRESSIONAL PRIMARY.

The race for the Democratic nomination for Congress was pulled off throughout the Eighth district last Saturday.

The vote was very light in each county making up the district. The full vote has not as yet been received, but a sufficient information is in to warrant us in making the announcement that Judge Ralph Gilbert, of Shelby county, was nominated by a small plurality over Col.
Frank L. Ripy, of Anderson county. Geo. P. Davis, of Cas-sey county, was third in the race.

Dear Editor and Faculty:

After some delay, will attempt to write a short letter to the News. To some who might have done as I have, wandered to some other state, will give them a brief description of this part. We located in southern Ind. about nine miles from New Albany, on the Southern Railroad. This part is adapted to corn, wheat, oats, hay, vegetables and all kinds of fruits common to the central states. Wheat is being threshed, and the yield is running low, average about 15 bu. per acre. Hay is fair, corn is good, considering late planting. I have met about fifty families of Kentuckians since February who have bought homes in this vicinity. As in every case, some are well pleased, some are self-ing and going back home. We might come, too, if Mrs. Moore and children would agree to it. If any of my friends should be interested in dairying this is the place, as the market is near and products are high. This country is broken, something like Adair County. About all we have over old Adair is the markets. It costs us but very little to put hogs, cattle, in fact anything we can produce, on the Louisville market. Green apples are bringing from $1.25 to $2.00 per bu., blackberries from 60 to 90c per gallon. We sold our cherries at home, with stem attached for 60c per gallon. We are getting 55c per lb for butter, and milk brings about 34c per gallon for creameries. We are located in Georgetown, a little town of about six or seven hundred. Have three churches, a high school and the finest lot of musicians known in this part. Have a young ladies brass band, that furnishes music for the surrounding country, and they play for all the reunions, picnics, and county fairs near here. By the way, lest I forget, I arrived here on Feb. 19, 1919, bought a farm and farmed last year, now to those who want evidence can call on my friend L. C. Hindman, sold again and moved to town, and am just living easy, but I can't tell how long it will last. Firestone

Why did sales of Firestone 3½-inch tires increase 96% the first six months of this year?

The motoring public found in the product exactly what it demanded—a balanced tire—uniform service.

You, multiplied by thousands, getting your most miles per dollar expended for tires, demonstrated the efficiency of the balanced 3½—the Firestone.

Firestone built a single plant (Plant No. 2) to specialize in tires for small cars and got results which have been passed on to you at low cost—most miles per dollar.

It is more than thickness of tread, the mystery of rubber compounding, the size of the breaker strip, the number of plies of fabric, the heavy cushion or the greater air displacement that has put greater tire mileage—more economy—more comfort at your call.

It is the balanced co-ordination of all parts of the Firestone 3½ by specialists who have given eighteen years' study and practice to tire needs. Ask your dealer.

The Farm Plank.

The farmers of our country should seriously consider the difference between the planks in the Republican Platform and the Democratic Platform respecting their particular welfare, and especially the following from the Democratic platform:

"For nearly half a century of Republican rule not a sentence was written into the Federal Statutes affording one dollar of bank credits to the farming interests of America. In the first term of this Democratic Administration the National Bank Law was so altered as to authorize loans of five years' maturity on improved farm lands. Later was established a system of farm loan banks from which the borrowings already exceed $300,000,000 and under which the interest rate to farmers has been so materially reduced as to drive out of business the farm loan sharks who formerly subsisted by extortion upon the great agricultural interests of the country."

Lets Go Crazy.

"It doesn't take brains to make money."

That is a common enough saying.

Recently a sheriff's jury declared John W. O'Bannon incompetent.

Not only has O'Bannon accumulated a fortune of from $15,000,000 through his own efforts, but testimony in court brought out the fact that during the past 52 days, when he was confined in the Riverside Sanitarium, he has made $2,000,000.

"Who's looney now?" O'Bannon might inquire with some pertinancy. While he was in the sanitarium he worked out a scheme by which the institution could incorporate and quadruple its profits.

"There is nothing really surprising in this case," said an eminent specialist, "There are many wealthy men who develop monomania or paranoia and who do not lose their money-making faculty."

"Money-making in itself does not imply or require the possession of a gigantic intellect. More than one rich man, I save no hesitation in saying, is much inferior intellectually to his chauffeur."

Motorized highway transportation is growing with astonishing rapidity. New York state alone has over four hundred motor express lines in operation.

It is estimated that, for the whole country, there are no less than 5,000 such lines in operation. These lines are of greatly varying size and widely scattered. The American Motor Freight Co., with headquarters at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, is incorporated at $500,000. A map of its route includes eighty towns in Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. The New England Transportation Company which operates out of Boston, Mass., is reported as having 150 motor trucks in service which operate over twelve routes totaling over 1000 miles in length. The Patriot Motor Express Co. of Wichita and Kansas City, Kansas, is capitalized at $1,000,000. It is reported that the company is operating through Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri and will use 250 trucks. Most of these trucks are now operating on Goodyear pneumatic tires.

Washed Up By River

A life jacket from the Lusitania, bearing a strand of blond hair, has been picked up off the Race Street Wharf in the Delaware River. The name of the ship the Germans torpedoed still remained distinct.

The life jacket was found by two railroad detectives. They hung the relic on a hook on the pier among piles of freight and mementoes picked from the tides.

The big liner was struck May 7, 1915, without warning, by a torpedo off the coast of Ireland and 3,000 miles from Philadelphia. About 1,200 lives were lost. The life jacket probably drifted about the seas bordering on Europe, South and North America, covering 15,000 miles in the five years of its wandering, according to the United States Naval Hydrographic Office here.

Experts consider it possible that the life jacket drifted down the coast of Europe, past Spain and Gibraltar, down the coast of Africa, then west and north past the Bahamas and Florida and northwest in the Gulf Stream along the coast of this country. It was caught in an ebb tide off the Delaware Breakwater and carried up the river.

A member of the firm of A. M. Bush and Co., wig makers, says it is possible that strands of hair should have clung in the jacket so long without disintegration.

PECULIAR KIND OF UMBRELLA

African "Bishop" Made Use of Prince Albert Coat When Rain Threatened Precious Loincloth.

"The Bishop" is like no other African. He has acquired the graces of the court of St. James and a surprising gift of repartee, using smiles and grunts chiefly. He is taller and older than any native in the neighborhood, which is the locality suburban to Vavati, Portuguese East. For years he has trekked with missionaries. He has carried their packs, bundled their beds and mosquito netting over miles of trail. His name was chosen by himself, in memory of Bishop Hartzell, with whom he traveled.

Yet the bishop is still a heathen—and proud of it. Among the other Africans in any given traveling party he is as conscious of his heathen distinction as Tom Sawyer's friend Jim was of his reputation for having seen evil spirits.

On a recent expedition a missionary saw the bishop for the first time and was particularly struck with the bishop's pride in his loincloth, a well-tailored trifle fashioned from monkey skin and built around a large brass ring. It began to rain. The bishop looked solicitously at the garment—much as a lady caught umbrellaless will look at her new spring suit when rain comes. The bishop had no umbrella, but from somewhere he produced a Prince Albert coat and buttoned it tightly about him. It served its purpose. The new loincloth escaped unscathed.—World Outlook.

ANCIENT AND MODERN NAMES

Writer Contends That Present-Day Appellations Lack the Euphony of the Olden Times.

Speaking of New England names, the genealogical columns of the Transcript are indeed a standing proof that the seventeenth and eighteenth century names possessed much more of snap, flavor and euphony than our twentieth century names possess.

Pick up the genealogical department at random—any day—and you will find such fine and resonant names as Betsey Keyes, Patty Holbrook, Susanna Gates, Polly Arnold, Darius Dewey, Prudence Rand, Thankful Sawyer, Thankful Newcomb, Hannah Pike, Deborah Clark, and Jonathan Rich—all of which are from one recent column. It is true that the same column contains names which are not exactly euphonic, and are indeed rather hard nuts to crack; these, for example: Leafy Bullard—a woman; whence the name of Leafy—Hatsel Higgins, Sparrow Higgins, Abigail Nash, Zeruliah Jewel, and Alcy Lockwood. In the previous number of the same department are found the names Colet Brown, Tabitha Holdredge, and Keturah Bassett.

The Nomad once encountered in an old book the name of Camilla Scudder. Was there ever a swifter name than that? And what about the name of Hepzibah Hathaway of New Bedford, found in Emery's book on the Howland Helms?—The Nomad in Boston Transcript.

Sand—$6,000 a Ton.

Wilmington, Del., has a dozen of the most expensive sand piles in the world. It costs $6,000 a ton, says the Portland Oregonian.

The reason for this, and incidentally a reason for high-priced gloves, was revealed the other day by a prominent leather merchant.

Wilmington is the chief glazed-kid center in the United States. About 20 per cent of the raw skins entering the United States come from China and are imported at the rate of about $1 a pound.

"What, then," asked the merchant, "would be more natural to the cunning celestial than to increase the weight of the skins by sprinkling sand on them?"

That is just what happens and the result is huge piles of sand at receiving plants here, where the hides are dried and prepared for manufacture.

Origin of Surnames.

No one can say with any certainty when the practice of taking a surname became general. The Greeks, Assyrians, Egyptians and other ancient peoples had no surnames; the later Romans had each one real personal name, to which they sometimes added a clan name or nomen, a family name or cognomen and a nickname or agnomen. The personal or Christian name was the only name recognized by early English law, surnames being words of description used to identify persons of the same name from each other. The Normans had introduced into England the habit of using surnames, but this was confined to the upper classes. By degrees even the common people began to be distinguished by names referring to personal characteristics, as Armstrong, rank or profession as Smith, father's name as Jackson, etc.

Fish and the Ancients.

The ancient Romans thought very highly of fish, and at big banquets brilliant fish were shown to the guests, alive, as a relish, then were served cooked after the soup. Apicius offered a prize to any culinary artist who would invent a new marinade compounded of livers of the red mullet. Lucullus had a canal cut through a mountain so that fish might be transported more easily to the ponds in his gardens near Naples. Hortensius wept over the death of a pet turbot while the daughter of Drusus adorned a favorite fish with a collar of gold.

FEW MARKS OF WAR IN HAMBURG

Streets Are Clean, Houses Freshly Painted and People Well Dressed and Fed.

BUT THERE IS MUCH MISERY

About 150,000 Are Out of Work, Prices Are High, Homes Scarce and Discontent General—People on Rations.

Hamburg.—Travelers from the United States landing in Hamburg find it difficult to realize that Germany has been at war for six years. The streets are clean, the houses freshly painted, and the people one sees on the streets look better dressed and quite as well fed as the average person on the streets of New York.

The Hotel Atlantic is filled with Americans who pay about 20 per cent less for their rooms than they would in New York, although these rates are more than double that paid by German travelers. The restaurants and cafes, which are now open until eleven o'clock at night, are crowded with people who appear to have plenty of money. The women are plainly dressed, and the rich gowns of pre-war days have vanished. The Alster, a charming lake in the center of the city, is covered with small yachts, canoes and rowboats.

Clothing is very expensive, a business suit costing 3,000 marks, and a pair of shoes 500 to 1,000 marks. Wooden shoes for the poorer classes cost from 24 to 35 marks, and are much worn, especially by boys.

The government issues new paper money every day in 5, 20 and 100 mark notes. Business men have to carry pocketbooks the size of notebooks to hold the bills.

The working men earn from 40 to 60 marks a day, which barely suffices to keep them and their families. Every citizen in Germany has to have cards for bread, meat, sugar, butter, margarine and soap.

Pork Sells at 20 Marks a Pound.

Meat is 6 marks a pound, and pork 20 marks, butter 36 marks, eggs 1 mark 70 pfennigs each, and a common kind of bread 5 marks 4 pfennigs for a five-pound loaf. For Americans who get 40 marks for a dollar these articles are cheap, but for the Germans they are very dear.

Plenty of food of all kinds, including tea and coffee, can be bought by what is called in Germany the "underhand system." The restaurants all have supplies on hand for customers who can pay high prices, and when the police hear any hotel or restaurant has too much food they make a raid and confiscate it.

The working people, and more especially the skilled educated classes, professors, school teachers, clerks, etc., cannot afford to pay for extra food for their families, and this is one of the chief causes of the present discontent which is prevalent throughout Germany. The only contented people are the profiteers, called "Scheiblers," who rank from the millionaire contractors, who have licenses from the government to purchase entire cargoes as they arrive on ships or in freight cars on the railroad, down to the small "Scheibler" who makes a living by eluding the police.

Nearly everybody is trying to do a little profiteering to augment his income.

Strikes occur almost daily in Hamburg, as the workmen are continually demanding increases in wages.

150,000 Unemployed in City.

The Rathaus, or town hall, which was shattered by bullets during the recent Kapp revolution, is now protected by barbed-wire barricades to prevent it being seized by another revolutionary group.

It is estimated there are 150,000 unemployed in Hamburg at the present time, of whom about 40,000 are seafaring men thrown out of work by the German merchant marine. They are paid 9 marks a day, which makes a heavy burden for the taxpayers, who will have to give up 40 per cent of their incomes under the new law coming into force soon. Several encounters have occurred in the streets between the unemployed and the Reichswehr, as the new soldiers are called, who wear gray uniforms and caps, carry rifles and short swords, and have orders. If attacked, to shoot and throw hand grenades and if necessary to use machine guns, which are always kept in readiness for an outbreak.

Some of the more desperate characters among the unemployed have formed themselves into bands and go around the city at night holding up people in their houses, in stores and on the streets. The Reichswehr have orders to line these bandits up against a wall and shoot them when they are caught redhanded.

The housing problem is a very difficult one in Hamburg, as thousands of workmen have come into the city from the smaller towns with their families, the unemployed allowance being larger here than in their own districts.

The American Express company and the International Mercantile marine are the only American firms which have so far opened offices in Hamburg.

Splendid Work.

Sixty Master Masons were in Columbia Lodge, No. 96, last Thursday evening to witness the conferring of the third degree, by Grand Secretary Dave Jackson, on Henry Hancock and W. L. Knight.

Bro. Jackson is thoroughly up on Masonry and the work was done faultlessly and in a most impressive manner. At intervals Bro. Jackson delivered talks which were enjoyed by all present.

After the conferring of the degree a number of short addresses were made by members of the lodge. Bro. J. P. Scruggs of Franklin, Ky., was present, and he favored the lodge with a splendid short address. The visit of Grand Secretary Jackson to the local lodge was highly appreciated, as he certainly enthused all the Masons present. A visit of a Grand officer to a local organization puts new life in the membership of a subordinate lodge, and the members of the local organization here will be ready to give Bro. Jackson a most cordial greeting at any time in the future.
